Associate Professor Department of Internal Medicine University School of Medicine Ajiogers@stanford.edu Medicine Resident Experience 2020 The combined residence of internal medicine and anesthesiology seeks candidates that show leadership capabilities that show dedication to the field. We have worked to maximize the number of withdrawals that residents can attend in both departments due to programming limitations. Residents in the combined program expected to assist a pedagogic conference in each specialty at least once a month. Residents can choose to make a surgical anesthesia day during an elective 2-week medication. We have worked to maximize the number of withdrawals that residents can attend in both departments due to programming limitations. Residents in the combined program take written exams for both residences. If you decide to come to Stanford for your training of residence, you will live in one of the most beautiful and diverse areas of the world. Graduates are eligible in both specialties.
